Migration in Britain: 1-day London walking tour

For those studying any of the GCSE History Thematic Environments which focus on Migration in Britain over the past 1000 years, Anglia has created a bespoke tour which provides a broad understanding of the context of migration over time, using London's East End as a lens. This tour encompasses the experience of the Huguenot, Irish, Jewish, German and Asian migrants into this area, in particular experiences which may be set against further Case Study demands across the unit.

'The Arrival' Kindertransport memorial, Hope Square

An overview of migration into London over the centuries. Why were successive migrant groups drawn to the East End? Change and continuity in reasons for migration and patterns of settlement. Facing similar challenges, finding similar successes.
